

‘I think your home is such a key part of your day-to-day living and a happy home life makes for a happy soldier, as they say!’

WOI BRAD DUNN AND MARIA DUNN
— KICKING BACK AT HOME

Maria Dunn is a happy Defence home maker, and why wouldn't she be (she says), when you have a newly renovated DHA home to live in?

Having been married for 20 years, Maria and Brad have seen their fair share of postings. They've been on an overseas posting and lived north and south of the country. Now living on-base at Puckapunyal, they get to enjoy the best of both worlds, a little bit of country just outside a capital city.

‘We are really pleased with our new home, it's certainly the best married quarter we've had, and we've had our fair share of Defence homes.

We now have evaporative cooling and a water tank which is a long way from our first posting to Townsville 20 years ago where all we had to keep us cool was an oscillating desk fan, which by the way, caught fire one night!’

‘I think your home is such a key part of your day to day living and a happy home life makes for a happy soldier, as they say!’

‘This is our ninth house in 20 years and we're more than happy to call it home for the next two years.’
